Dulles Asks United Action For Asia Conquest By Reds Must Be Prevented

...Policy Address Has Ike's OK

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Monday night the free world should take "united action" to prevent Communist conquest of Indo-China and all Southeast Asia.

"This might involve serious risks," he said. "But these risks are far less than those that will face us a few years from now, if we dare not be resolute today."

Dulles spoke out, with the advance approval of President Eisenhower, in a major foreign policy address on the Communist threat in the Far East.

His call for "united action" it was learned, had been specifically cleared with the President in a weekend conference at the White House.

The wording was kept general on purpose, officials said, in order to avoid tipping off the Communists about what to expect. By speaking of "united action" Dulles made clear he meant a move by the United States as well as its Allies, in contrast to previous speech in which he spoke about possible American retaliation.

He declared in an address before the Overseas Press Club that if the Reds won control over any substantial part of Indo-China "they would surely resume the same pattern of aggression against other free peoples in the area."

U. S. Position
Dulles said he spoke out "to clarify further the United States position" so that the Communist would know in advance "where his aggression could lead him."

"Communist control of Southeast Asia could carry a grave threat to the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand, with whom we have treaties of mutual assistance," he said.

"The entire Western Pacific area, including the so-called 'offshore' island chain, would be strategically endangered."

In a speech carried to the nation and television, Dulles said the U. S. government has no intention of granting diplomatic recognition to Communist China or voting for its entry into the United Nations.

He laid down a no-appeasement policy saying: "It is now the policy of the United States not to exchange United States performance for Communist promises."

Cease And Desist
Previewing the American position at the April 26 Geneva Peace Conference on Korea and Indo-China, Dulles said:

"We hope that any Indo-China discussion will serve to bring the Chinese Communists to see the danger of their apparent design for the conquest of Southeast Asia, so that they will cease and desist."

Senate Comment
NEW YORK (INS) — Dulles' policy-making speech was critically received in some senatorial quarters. Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.) Ore., charged that the secretary is risking involving the U. S. in the Indo-China war.

Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) commented that "I think he (Dulles) should go to the Geneva Conference with more of an open mind. I don't like to see any man go into a conference completely strapped." He agreed with Dulles, however, that some risks are involved in combating the spread of Communism.

Treasury Nays Return To Gold Standard

Burgess Is Flatly Opposed

It Would Give Russia 'Glorious Handout,' Senators Are Told

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury and the Federal Reserve System joined forces Monday in opposing a proposal to put the United States back on the gold standard at this time.

W. R. McCarty, a senator from Nebraska, said that the United States should not return to the gold standard at this time.

The Russians recently have been selling large quantities of gold in Western Europe, and Burgess said that for the United States to hike the price of gold would be to play into their hands.

Abandoned In '33
Burgess and William McCarty, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, centered their attention on a bill by Sen. Bridges (R-Neb.) to restore the gold standard, abandoned by this country in 1933.

Burgess said the Treasury is "unalterably opposed" to the move under present conditions of Moscow-inspired world unrest. He added it was in co-operation with other countries — in more settled times.

Burgess said so far as he knows the White House shares this opposition. Under questioning, he said he couldn't say whether President Eisenhower's opposition is "unalterable."

Root Of Trouble
Bridges sent a statement in which he attributed devaluation of the dollar and a host of other economic ills to the Roosevelt administration's going off gold.

"The American people," he said, "were persuaded to give up one of the basic safeguards of their liberty—they surrendered all their monetary gold and they gave up the right to require that the federal government maintain a sound currency redeemable in gold."

Burgess said the Treasury soon will issue regulations aimed at simplifying the "administrative burdens" of gold restrictions on individuals and firms.

But he said the Treasury is convinced "it would not be wise now to take the risk of a major step in relaxing restraints."

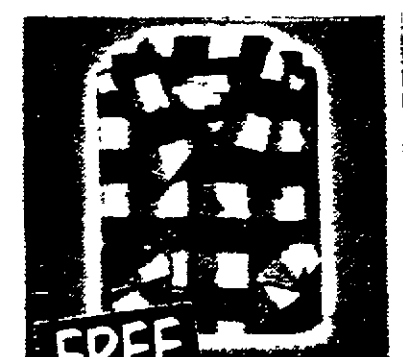

Store Sales Drop Compared With '53

OMAHA (AP)—Department store sales in Lincoln, Hastings and Omaha, with others in the 10th federal reserve district, dropped during the week ended March 20. The Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City said sales in the 'three cities' were down 8 per cent in comparison with the same week a year ago though still on a par with last year's for the Jan. 1-March 20 period.

The bank noted that "March and April changes from a year ago reflect in part the fact that last year Easter was on April 5 while this year it will be April 18."

The 10th federal reserve district as a whole was down 14 per cent for the week and 6 per cent for the period since Jan. 1.

Moving Day For Christ Methodist

Moving into a new house is a big headache for any family but imagine moving the furnishings of an entire church building. Just such a project is under way this week for Christ Methodist Church. Members of the congregation are moving all the contents of the old building at 29th and Randolph to the new church at 45th and A. This includes pianos, chairs, shelves, dishes, refrigerators and even toys. Some of the first workers on hand to assist with the project were Rex Touzalin picking up a box of toy blocks in the church nursery as Mrs. John Ott and Mrs. Lloyd Watt (right) pack more boxes to be moved. First services at the new $200,000 structure will be held next Sunday. (Star Photo.)

News Around The Globe

Survivors Sail

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—More than 1,000 British servicemen—many wearing borrowed French uniforms—resumed their homeward voyage Monday still shaken by their close call with death aboard the flaming troopship Empire Windrush.

The Britons along with more than 100 wives and children filed aboard the Royal Navy aircraft carrier Triumph still echoing praises for crewmen of the four rescue ships that plucked them from the sea around the 14,651-ton transport Sunday in one of the most spectacular rescues in naval history.

The only fatalities were four crewmen who died when an engine room explosion sent flames racing through the stricken ship 20 miles off the North African coast.

Naguib Defeated

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's harried Revolutionary Council of army rulers rushed tanks and troops into Cairo and handed President Mohamed Naguib a complete defeat by calling off his pledge to restore parliamentary government by next July.

The tanks and helmeted troops were rushed into Cairo to curb shouting street demonstrators and strikers who had turned against Naguib—crowds that were shouting for him only a month ago when the Revolutionary Council temporarily fired him as a would-be dictator.

1,400 Killed

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The French high command said Monday night their forces killed 1,400 Red-ruled besiegers of Dien Bien Phu in a combined armored and aerial thrust from the dust bowl fortress.

Bombing with high explosive 1,000 pounders accounted for 1,000 rebel dead on the dusty Indo-China plan, and tanks and artillery moved down another 400 of the enemy, the high command said.

Good Prospects

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said that prospects have improved for selection of a chief counsel in the investigation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's dispute with the Army.

The senator, acting chairman of McCarthy's Investigations Subcommittee while the inquiry is in progress, told newsmen that several acceptable individuals are under consideration.

Gas Rate Bill Near

New Ordinance Possible This Week

Introduction of an ordinance to establish new and lower retail natural gas rates in the city is possible this week.

Central Electric and Gas Co. has submitted additional information to the City Council's special power committee. This information, said Jeary, will be reviewed by the committee early in the week.

If the committee reaches an agreement, said Jeary, a special meeting of the Council may be called to get the rate ordinance introduced.

Proposal Increased

Last December, the Council approved a temporary 14.6 per cent increase in rates. When wholesale rates to it were established permanently, Central came in and proposed a 4.74 per cent reduction in those rates.

Central's proposal was taken by the power committee and cut to a 5.85 per cent reduction. Central expressed disagreement with some points of that reduction and has apparently now submitted additional information in support of its position.

Central indicated a willingness to compromise between its 4.74 per cent proposal and the 5.85 per cent cut recommended by the committee.

Standard Base

At the committee's last report to the Council, Jeary expressed the desire to establish a standardized rate base for Central to make further rate adjustment easier.

Along this line, he suggested the possible hiring this summer of someone experienced in utility operations to establish the base the city wants. The committee, in its current discussions, has had the aid of an experienced utility finance man.

The committee, said Jeary, has been very limited in its studies by its lack of ability and facilities.

Visitors Injured In 2-Car Accident

Mrs. J. G. Feeney, 23, and Barbara Murray, 19, both visiting at 4052 Sheridan Boulevard, were injured in a two-car collision at 33rd and Randolph Monday night. Both were hospitalized and were reported in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Feeney suffered bruises and abrasions on the head and shoulders and Barbara Murray suffered abrasions on the head when she was thrown through the windshield. Mrs. Feeney was driving south on 33rd when the car she was driving collided with a car going east on Randolph and driven by Edwin Mockett, 51, 500 South 47th.

The Feeney car was forced into a telephone pole by the impact.

Lincolmites Not Seriously Hurt In Auto Crash

BISHOP, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Lorraine K. Heyl, 37, wife of Charles Heyl, 52, vice president and director of agencies of the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, suffered abrasions and cuts Sunday when she was thrown from their car 20 miles north of here.

She was taken to a Bishop hospital for treatment by a passing motorist. Heyl was shaken up but did not require treatment.

Highway patrolmen said Heyl was driving north on Highway 395 toward Reno when his car struck rock in the road and overturned. They left Lincoln a week ago.

G.I. Teacher Is Completing 44th Year In Schools

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Miss Selma Bodmer of Grand Island, who began her teaching career when children did their homework by kerosene lamp, is completing her 44th year in the field.

And, although she plans to give up full-time teaching at the completion of this school year, Miss Bodmer will continue to keep a hand in the work by serving as a substitute when needed.

Miss Bodmer, who graduated from Grand Island College and since has studied in summer sessions at Kearney State College and in Colorado, has spent the 44 years in Hall County.

"The years have slid by so quickly," she said, "because I have liked my work."

Mud Reveals 'Stray-Bullet' Gun Owners

OMAHA (AP)—Detective John Zaloudek's eye for Missouri River mud Monday led to the arrest of two youths in the accidental shooting of an 11-year-old Omaha boy last Saturday.

Marcel Devos Jr. remained in critical condition at Children's Memorial Hospital as a result of an abdomen wound from a stray .22 caliber bullet.

Young Devos and a companion, Steve Walling, 10, were walking along the Missouri River bottom land when the mishap occurred.

Young Walling told police he had noticed two youths fishing nearby and that they had a rifle.

Schools Searched

Monday Detectives Zaloudek and Darwin Boyd began a search of schools in the South Omaha area. They arrested a 14-year-old at Hawthorne School and later his brother, 16, at home.

Detective Zaloudek said he took one look at the younger boy's boots and "I knew it was Missouri River mud as soon as I spotted it. We questioned the boy and he told us the story."

The brothers told officers they had met the two younger boys and allowed them to fire several shots from the rifle.

When they got ready to leave, they said the gun accidentally fired.

"He Yelled"
"I laid the rifle down," the 14-year-old said, "and it went off. I guess it might have caught on the bottom of my jacket. I didn't know it had hit anything until he yelled."

The 16-year-old said he was standing beside Marcel when he heard the gun go off.

Both said they ran to a nearby grease plant to summon aid.

"When we didn't find any one there, we got scared and went home," the 14-year-old brother said.

Detective Inspector Harry Green said the youths would be booked for discharging firearms within the city and then turned over to juvenile authorities. He said he was certain the shooting was an accident.

Soviets Cast 58th U.N. Council Veto

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky cast the Soviet Union's 58th veto in the U.N. Security Council to void a Western demand that Egypt stop interfering with Israeli-bound cargoes in the Suez Canal.

The chief Soviet delegate threw his country's diplomatic strength behind the Arab bloc on a day which saw mounting tension between Israel and her neighbors.

In Jerusalem Jordan charged that an armed Israeli band crossed the frontier and killed nine Arabs in the village of Natalin. Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett said his government had no information about the incident but it "looks like a reaction" to the killing of a watchman in a nearby Israeli village during the week end.

Joins Malik

Vishinsky's "no" in the 11-nation council—"no" in the 11-nation council—his second veto this year and his country's 58th in the U.N.'s eight-year history—was to a New Zealand resolution calling on Egypt to comply with a U.N. Security Council demand of 1951. The 1951 action asked that restrictions applied to Israeli shipping in the Suez Canal be dropped.

Vishinsky joined Dr. Charles A. Malik of Lebanon in voting against this proposal as he had done Jan. 22 in killing a Western Big Three plan to settle a Syrian-Israeli dispute over Jordan River water rights in a way that Syria disliked.

The United States, Britain, France, Brazil, Denmark, Colombia, Turkey and New Zealand voted for the resolution which New Zealand had introduced. Nationalist China abstained.

REAS Back NPPS Power Plant

between the 35th and 40th year. He also emphasized Consumers' estimate of a 30-year issue at 2 1/2 per cent in contrast with NPPS' 3 1/2 per cent over a 40-year period.

He also aimed a shaft at the NPPS provision of $150,000 to Wainwright and Ramsey, New York City, financial consultants.

"That seems to me to be quite a charge for floating a $17,600,000 loan," he commented.

"We figure our costs for that service around $25,000 to $30,000."

'Know-How' Cited

DeBoer gave a quick rebuttal. "I don't think any of us in Nebraska know enough about floating such loans to go into the market ourselves for such an amount," he replied.

"Wainwright and Ramsey are a top outfit. If they can save us as little as 1/2 of one per cent by their know-how it will more than cover their fee. And I think they can."

DeBoer defended the NPPS bond program.

"It will keep the debt service costs down during the early years and permit the REA's to develop and mature their fields," he said.

"Besides, this talk of comparative interest rates is purely speculative. Both Consumers and the NPPS are stating their own estimates. The sale of the bonds to customers will tell the story."

40-Year Plan Hit

Schaef criticized the NPPS 40-year debt program.

"Consumers think it is better to gear the debt to the life of the plant which is nearer to 30 years. The fact still remains that Consumers have the better credit rating and its 30 year bonds in the end should cost the power users $10,000,000 less."

While the contest was largely waged on a comparison of the bond package, the contrasting costs and how each were cut to fit the needs, the issues of which should generate and which should sell lurked behind the arguments.

DeBoer said, "Ever since the hydros were first organized in the early thirties they were conceived to be the principal producer and transmitter of wholesale power. And Consumers, which was organized by the Loup District, was created for the purpose of buying out the private power companies and re-tailing the wholesale production of the hydros.

"We propose to remain by that original concept. When Consumers go into the generation of power they are out of their field."

'Concept Not Changed'

On the question of the amended power contracts of 1949 which Consumers contend ended the requirement that it purchase all of its requirements from the hydros which in turn had been obligated to provide whatever load Consumers needed, DeBoer asserted that "the original concept has not changed. It is what the people expect and it is what the bondholders bought."

Monday's meeting resolved the position of the hydros' customer—the REAs. But the latter's decision did not have the force to require obedience either from NPPS or Consumers and still left the open question of whether Nebraska will have two steam generating plants or only one.

Began In January

The clash of interests became public in January when both Consumers and the NPPS announced intentions to build a steam plant in southeast Nebraska to meet the ever-increasing demand of Nebraska's already power hungry areas.

The REAs entered the picture publicly a fortnight ago during the annual meeting of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association. Its resolution expressed confidence that the two agencies would amicably resolve the issue and suggested renewed efforts.

These proceeded well enough for a time. But arbitration which proceeded far enough to take representatives of all the involved agencies to Chicago where plans moved forward for an adjusted settlement fell apart.

Aged Tree Bears

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The orange tree planted in 1836 at Bidwell's Bar on the Feather River near here still bears fruit. It was planted by Judge Joseph Lewis at the time when Bidwell's Bar was a rip-roarin' gold town of 20,000 population. The ghost town site now is a part of Bidwell Bar State Park.

Benson Trying To Incite Farm 'Civil War,' Lawmakers Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for the National Farmers Union charged that Secretary of Agriculture Benson is trying to incite "civil war" in the farmlands with his demands for lower price support levels. Glenn J. Talbot, chairman of the Union's executive committee and president of its North Dakota branch, accused the secretary of "settling commodity group against commodity group" to break down the present system of rigid, high-level price supports for basic crops.

Now that Benson has pushed down dairy support levels from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, Talbot told the Senate Agriculture Committee, the secretary "expects that economic pressure will force dairy farmers to support his desire for cheaper oats, barley and the high protein supplements, as well as grain sorghums and rye."

Pile Up Seen
Talbot predicted the government's policy would cause corn to pile up in government warehouses.

"If this can be accomplished," he said, "the economic pressures will make it politically impossible to hold corn at 90 per cent of parity beyond this year."

"Without corn supports at 90 per cent of parity, we cannot hold wheat, and when we lose wheat and corn it will be equally impossible to hold support legislation for cotton and other basic commodities."

Parity is a price for farm products "fixed by law as being fair to the farmer in relation to things he must buy."

'Destruction'
Talbot, speaking for an organization of 216,000 farm families, said Benson is operating "a juggernaut of destruction" against the price support program. Benson wants a more flexible system under which supports can be lowered when farm surpluses begin to pile up.

With lower price supports for dairy products scheduled to go into effect Thursday, farmers were unloading millions of pounds of butter on the government in Chicago and other storage centers.

Many Chicago chain stores already have cut prices from 4 to 10 cents a pound. With the start of the new month, the government will support grade 1 butter at 57 1/2 cents a pound instead of the current price of 65 1/2.

Benson told a news conference that some retail outlets have said they will offer butter as low as 53 cents a pound after the first of the month.

But the secretary added that most retail butter prices are expected to be in the "mid and upper 60s," compared with the present 75 to 80 cent range.

ALY FLIES HALF WAY AROUND THE GLOBE FOR GENE; WILL THEY WED?

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—After flying half way across the world, Prince Aly Khan and Gene Tierney met at Rosarita Beach, 18 miles outside of Tijuana, Mexico. Aly first flew from Paris to Holland, then to Montreal, and over the United States into Mexico. He did not dare land in the U. S. A. for fear of being served with papers by Rita Hayworth, who is asking for a child support.

Gene slipped out of town Friday night on Pan-American Airlines, accompanied by her mother. She registered as Eliza Taylor, and her mother used the name Malvina Taylor, her maiden name.

Love knows no barrier. A star is not supposed to fly while making a picture, but 20th Century-Fox looked out the window because Gene was back on the set of "The Egyptian" at Red Rock in the Mojave Desert Monday at 6:30 a.m. She and her mother drove all night so that she would not be late. If she finishes Tuesday night she again will drive all night to Rosarita to meet the Moslem prince.

Will they marry in Mexico? Well, that's anyone's guess. I doubt it. Gene's madly in love with Aly, but because of the difference in their religion she has said she will not act hastily, and will not marry right away.

Mr. Martin's Gamble

Nebraska Republican State Chairman Martin announces in happy spirit that he has secured Sen. Joe McCarthy as the principal speaker for the party's pre-primary gathering. Mr. Martin's happiness may be short-lived. Actually he is taking a gamble.

There is a lot of water to go over the dam before May 24 rolls around.

On second thought, McCarthy's associates in the Senate may decide to drop or to stall indefinitely the scheduled showdown between McCarthy and top Army officials. There is not any question, however, what McCarthy's Republican colleagues in the Senate think about it. The fact that they are criticizing him is sufficient evidence that they have become convinced he is more of a political liability to them and to the party than an asset.

'Incompetence' On The Land

"Farmers should not be placed in a position of working for government bounty. Inefficiency should not be subsidized. Relief programs should be operated as such. Emergency programs should be terminated as soon as the emergency is over . . ."—Extract from a statement by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Mr. Benson at the start of the week was striking back at his critics. His words were in reply to published reports that he had been "captured" by an "eastern influence" emanating from Cornell University.

One short sentence in his statement on agricultural objectives is of particular interest. "Inefficiency should not be subsidized," Mr. Benson said. And a very sincere, devout man, his words have about as much application to the very complicated, confused problems affecting American agriculture as if he were to announce courageously that he is "against sin." We are all against sin. And we are all against "inefficiency."

But when it comes to agriculture, the difficulty in defining what is "inefficiency" is readily apparent. We assume that it could be said that the man attempting to eke out a livelihood on submarginal land is an inefficient farmer. He should know better than to undertake to produce an adequate amount of farm commodities from the worn-out soil he occupies or from land which we say never should be put to cultivation in the first place. The efficient farmer should be equipped with the very latest in farm machinery, although admittedly the capital required as an investment in the most efficient farm equipment might make it impossible for thousands of

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The news columns of the Monday morning Star carried one inconspicuous note. Lincoln Park Superintendent Jim Agar said that the crews operating under his supervision had removed an approximate 3,000 dead trees in Lincoln in the last year from the parkways and residential sections, 99 per cent of them elms.

At the same time there was good news for Lincoln home owners. They at least can look forward for a season or two to freedom from the canker worm infestation which has cost this community and its people heavy losses of stately elms in recent years. Banding of the elms, it appears, will not be necessary as a preventative step against the raid of the canker worm on one of the most decorative trees which contributes to the beauty of Lincoln residential sections. The community is fortunate in another respect. The 10-year wet cycle which covered most of the Midwest produced a tree growth in this city and in other areas that reduced losses immeasurably, and at the same time contributed to the maturity of trees surviving insect pests. The loss of 3,000 fine trees in a single year, virtually all of them elms, is an eloquent tale of the battle that has been in progress in recent years while countless hordes of canker worms stripped the leaves of the elm.

The final design adopted by the Post Office Department for the commemorative stamp for the 100th anniversary of the establishment of territorial government in Nebraska departs somewhat from the recommendations submitted to it by the centennial commission. The stamp itself is of an attractive design and no doubt will meet with a spirited demand from collectors.

There is the outside chance that when Lincoln's City Council calls for bids for the construction of the city auditorium, it may find that the lively competition of recent months may make it possible to incorporate all of the features called for in the original plan. That, of course, raises a pretty big "if." If the bids follow the trend revealed in connection with expansion of the city's water plant and also apparent in highway activities, there is the bare chance that available revenues will make it possible for the Council to carry out its program of an auditorium and an arena as originally projected. That is on the "lap of the gods." On the basis of recent experiences, however, there could not be a better time in which to get going. In the bidding for sections of the water expansion program, the earlier estimates of costs were cut by actual bids, representing a saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Likewise the scramble for highway work, with heavy backlogs no longer providing a cushion, has enabled the state to save thousands of dollars on the estimated costs of individual highway projects.

DREW PEARSON

Brownell Sleuths Eye California Democrats

LOS ANGELES — The California arm of Herbert Brownell's Justice Department is now playing it rough, tough and with a cold eye to political business. It is busy looking over the record of several California congressmen in order to find a Democratic Bramblett, Congressman Ernest Bramblett, a Republican, was recently convicted for taking salary kickbacks, which gave the GOP a black eye in California, and U.S. attorneys in California would like to find a Democrat to counterbalance it.

They are calling their shots very carefully, because a few votes in the House of Representatives next November may spell the difference between Republican or Democratic control. Here is how the GOP strategy shapes up.

No. 1—U.S. attorneys are considering the indictment of Congressman Robert Condon of Walnut Creek, Calif., on a charge of perjury. Condon whose law firm once represented Communists, has testified to this effect, but has stated that he was never a member of the Communist party. Although Condon convinced his congressional colleagues that he was telling the truth, Justice Department officials have been considering a perjury case against him. They will probably hold it up, however, until late summer or early fall just before elections.

No. 2—Justice Department officials have combed the record of Congressman Jack Shelley of San Francisco, a member of the teamsters union, who was a friend of former Collector of Internal Revenue James Smythe, indicted in connection with income tax scandals, but never convicted. A search of Congressman Shelley's record, however, proved fruitless.

No. 3—Meanwhile, U.S. Attorney Laughlin Waters in Los Angeles has shown every indication that he is out to get Congressman Cecil King, Democrat, of Los Angeles. King is the second-ranking Democrat member of the congressional delegation from California and any action against him would have important political reverberations.

Recently, the U.S. attorney's office in Los Angeles subpoenaed King's bank record from the Riggs Bank in Washington; first that of Mrs. King, whose first name is Louise, but whose nickname is "Gert." Both bank accounts failed to show any substantial deposits. The U.S. attorney then subpoenaed the banking account of a "Mrs. Gertrude King" from the same bank, apparently under the impression that she was Mrs. Cecil King. Mrs. Gertrude B. King had heavy deposits, reportedly from a trust fund, and the U.S. attorney's office really thought they had something. They were disappointed to find, however, that she was not the wife of a Congressman, but the wife of a government official in Washington, D.C.

Meanwhile, U.S. Attorney Waters is reported to be preserving a letter which was formerly a member of the California legislature and as such was chairman of the committee which gerrymandered Congressman King's 17th district so that King had to move his home.

What Waters did was to chop the district up so that two isolated blocks, including King's home, were placed outside his election district.

As a result, the congressman had to move. And one of the matters which the U.S. attorney's office is now investigating is where King got the money to acquire a new home.

U.S. Attorney Waters' activities have gone so far that he recently attended a political rally in Manhattan Beach where he sat beside the Republican candidate who is opposing King, Mr. Robert Finch. Significantly Finch had previously indicated he would not run for Congress. But after the U.S. attorney started the grand jury investigation of King, Finch suddenly changed his mind and entered the race. Now he has the public support of the U.S. attorney at political rallies, as well as the private support of his office.

Justice Department officials in Washington, when queried, expressed the opinion that Waters' attendance at a political rally aimed at defeating King, the man he was attempting to prosecute, was not a violation of the Hatch act since Waters is not under civil service.

No. 4—Last move by California Democrats to embarrass the Democrats is the subpoenaing of Bert Coffey, a member of the California Democratic Central Committee by the Un-American Activities Committee. Coffey has made no secret of his membership in the party prior to 1946 at which time he withdrew. However, Congressman Donald Jackson of Los Angeles, a member of the Un-American Activities Committee, has initiated a move to call Coffey for cross-examination regarding his past.

Democratic congressmen from California are frank in calling this carefully planned strategy "political persecution." They attribute it, however, not to the Justice Department in Washington but to the Nixon-Hillings machine in California, which operates under the astute aegis of Murray Chotiner, campaign manager for Vice President Nixon and Congressman Pat Hillings.

TWO JOHNSONS

Gus Johnson, the 76-year-old treasurer of the state of California, a Republican, is hopping mad because another Johnson has challenged him for re-election. Hitherto, not many people have bothered to run for treasurer of California, and Gus Johnson has considered the job more or less his personal preserve.

When, therefore, he heard that a Democrat named George E. Johnson was challenging him for re-election, Gus Johnson nearly hit the ceiling.

"I'm going to find out the name of that Greek before he came to the United States," he told a friend, referring to the fact that George E. Johnson, a Sacramento restaurant man, is of Greek origin.

"My name," remarked George E. Johnson, when he heard what Gus had said, "was just the same as Gus Johnson's before he came to the United States. His was Johannes. Mine was Joannides. Both mean the 'son of John'."

And Gus Johnson, who refers to George Johnson as an immigrant, also immigrated to the United States.

George Bill Fights For Small Taxpayers

WASHINGTON — The man who works and earns $5,000 a year or less—78.8 per cent of the taxpayers—can get relief from the new Republican tax bill only if he suffers a calamity of certain sorts, puts his children to work or, if he is a farmer, makes expenditures for soil and water conservation.

Theoretically he might benefit from the cuts in excises—opposed by the White House but insisted upon by election-conscious congressmen—but to do so he would have to buy luxury goods, furs, luggage or jewelry which are out of his cruising range.

All major respects the Reed bill, which passed the House last week, is addressed to upper bracket taxpayers. Some of its provisions on depletion allowances, overseas earnings and other technical matters indicate that there is not even equity among kings in the new bill and that certain industries will be favored over others.

An equity of sorts is claimed by the bill's sponsors when the statement that relief is afforded about 50-50 as between corporations and individuals. This is misleading since the shareholders in the corporations are largely the same upper bracket taxpayers who get most of the individual help. Only 4.5 per cent of taxpayers with $5,000 a year income or less report any dividend income at all.

The party lines are drawn for another fight in the Senate to redress this balance to some degree. It will center on a proposal by Sen. George of Georgia, usually rated a tax conservative, to increase personal exemptions from the current $600 a year to $800 this year and $1,000 in 1955.

This election sweetener has caught the Republicans off-base. Its appeal is so obvious this year of recession that many members expect it to pass.

What is interesting about the

BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

The Life Of Christ

CHAPTER XIV

[Yesterday Bishop Sheen discussed Christ's delivery of what is generally known as His Sermon on the Mount, or the "Beatitudes." Bishop Sheen lists the last and starts out with an analysis of the first three. To be "poor in spirit" is to be conscious of one's spiritual poverty. "Patience" is meekness as opposed to anger, resentment and retaliation. For "those who mourn," Christ looks upon sorrow as darkness that heralds the dawn.]

Those who hunger and thirst: They are those who yearn for holiness, which is abandonment to the Will of God in all things, that they would die rather than commit a single sin. The hunger and thirst here are not physical, but spiritual; it is not just an inner dissatisfaction with human prescriptions, but rather a yearning to attain holiness and righteousness which is conformity to the Will of God. Swine are satisfied with husks, but not the soul of immortal man. It is the desire of holiness that is blessed; the achievement and perfection of it is on God's side. We receive holiness, but we do not create it. All the cups of earth of which we drink are empty, as regards the thirst of the soul. Only God can fill both the cup and him who drinks.

The merciful: The merciful pardon others and obtain pardon; because they need mercy, they show it; while hating the sin, they love the sinner and say: "Father, forgive." Selfishness is hell; mercy is heaven. The world gives back as a mirror what we put into it. As we show mercy, we receive it; as we forgive others, we receive forgiveness.

The peace-makers: Peace is not the absence of war, but the tranquility of order. Order is the subordination of senses to reason, body to soul; reason to faith, the whole personality to God. Peace is not automatic; it is made. He is no peace-maker who has no scourge in his hands against evil, whose love does not hate sin, and who is incapable of righteous indignation. Peace is based not on expediency, but on justice. The peacemaker must fight without ever ceasing to be love. Such peace is first not in nations, but in souls. A peaceful world comes ceive forgiveness. But the Beatitudes do not assume that we will receive mercy because we show it, but rather, because we have received forgiveness of our sins from God, we will be forgiving others. Mercy is a consequence, not the cause of receiving God's Mercy. Our mercy then becomes the effort to redeem, but this cannot be done without sacrifice, as the Life of Christ reveals.

The clean of heart: The pure of heart are those who control all lusts, not as a denial of love, but as a guarding of it until the body can be used as God wills it to be used. The "seeing of God" which is the privilege of the pure, does not mean with human eyes, but with the eye of the spirit. Carnal lusts are at enmity with the spirit. Bad behavior keeps as many from seeing God as does ignorance. Under the slavery of sex, a mind sees nothing straight. As clouds hide the sun, so habits of an unclean mind hide God. Impurity is a cataract on the eye of the soul. There is a reciprocity between sight and seeing the heavens, between a clean heart and seeing God.

The peace-makers: Peace is not the absence of war, but the tranquility of order. Order is the subordination of senses to reason, body to soul; reason to faith, the whole personality to God. Peace is not automatic; it is made. He is no peace-maker who has no scourge in his hands against evil, whose love does not hate sin, and who is incapable of righteous indignation. Peace is based not on expediency, but on justice. The peacemaker must fight without ever ceasing to be love. Such peace is first not in nations, but in souls. A peaceful world comes

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

From Little River

The wild north coast of California was settled by people from Maine. You can see their whitewashed frame houses on the back streets of little towns.

The Maine men came in the fifties and sent the great redwood logs down the salmon rivers.

To the lumber mills where saws ripped them into boards for the gold rush city of San Francisco.

Now lumbering is not at the fever pitch that it was when the city was being built. And the few north coast towns are bypassed by the big inland highways.

In winter, the coast storms rip the paint from the old gingerbread mansions of the lumber kings. But the houses stand sturdily and redwood never rots.

I stayed at Heritage House with its great apple warehouse turned into a recreation room. The beams came from a Mendocino water tower and the floor was ripped up from an old store at Ft. Bragg.

Heritage House is one of those rare, fine hidden resorts. Mr. Dennen, who runs it, said the house was built by his great-grandfather. He was a builder.

Since then a great many people had it until the Dennens bought it for a resort.

"A ship went down off Point Arena a few years ago and there were some divers trying to raise it," he said.

"One of the divers came up here and asked if he could take a look around."

"He looked around and said: 'Yes, this is the place all right.'"

"George used to sit there," said the diver pointing to the dining room. "There was a big table there where they laid the money and the pistols."

Honesty In Spending

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We hear a lot these days about "Operation Honesty" in tax-paying, but what about the spending? No doubt there is room for improvement there, too, but nothing is said about that.

EARL DARPP

Cost Of Fluoridation

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the matter of fluoridation of our city water, we are asked to believe that if Johnny drinks this fluoridated water from age six to 16 or thereabouts, this agent (sodium silicofluoride) will cause his teeth to have harder enamel. We admit that this may be true.

But we are also asked to believe that if Johnny drinks this same water from age 16 to age 76 or thereabouts, this hardening agent will tramp in and out of his temple of living and leave no hardened footprints at all. We doubt that. We have other items of interest such as bones that can be worked on.

We insist that we are able to treat the children's teeth at public expense with no more cost than fluoridation. We do such things now in the matter of disease prevention. Vaccinations, TB tests, school nurse service, etc., without asking the older temple of living and leave no hardened footprints at all. We doubt that. We have other items of interest such as bones that can be worked on.

W. HARRIS

"George used to pass out the money."

The diver said he was in the rum-running business at the time. They would boat the liquor into the cove below Heritage House and hoist it up the 80-foot cliffs on cables. The old cables are still down in the field.

After they landed the liquor, George would make the payoff.

The diver said that he finally quit rum running and went off to Southern California.

One day in October, 1934, he picked up a newspaper. The headlines said that "Pretty Boy" Floyd had been shot to death in East Liverpool, Ohio. There was a big picture of "Pretty Boy" on the front page.

"It was George," said the diver.

Up in Mendocino, the Masonic Temple was built in 1865. There are statues on top, symbolic of Masonic ritual, carved out of one big piece of redwood. The walls are filled with 14 inches of sawdust.

The building was laid on a foundation of redwood logs. Only recently they packed it up and put concrete under it. Masons come from all over the West for ceremonies at the old building.

There is a Chinese joss house.

A remainder of days when there were thousands of Chinese in California. Now the Hee family is the only family left in Mendocino. They keep up the temple. I imagine to Tien Howe who is the goddess usually found in temples by the sea.

There is a spired, New England type Presbyterian church. And a small redwood church with stained windows and a huge bell on a wheel in the tower.

It was a Baptist Church and built by a lumber tycoon named Kelly. He built it for his wife and daughter, the only Baptist in Mendocino. The daughter, Mrs. Alex McCullum, died a few years ago when she was 94. She kept the church in perfect condition.

All around the town rise the ornate water towers of the days when lumber was king. And lumber men built their own churches and sent their children to Europe for the grand tour.

Now the houses sit here, year after year, secured by long gone builders against the roaring storms of winter. The salmon boats bring in the day's catch. Lumber schooners carry some redwood down the coast. And the cables that hauled liquor for "Pretty Boy" Floyd rust in a sheep pasture above the sea.

House Unit Knocks Props From Housing Program

President Rebuffed—Demos

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee knocked the props from under the administration's public housing program, and Democrats called the action "a complete repudiation" of President Eisenhower.

The Rules Committee refused to sanction an Appropriations Committee recommendation that would have kept the public housing program in existence on a skeleton basis during the next fiscal year, which starts July 1.

Both committees are dominated by Republicans.

Last week the Appropriations Committee decreed that 20,000 new housing units could be started next year and not more than 15,000 the following year. That would then end the program, despite Eisenhower's request of last January for a 140,000-unit program spread over four years at the rate of 35,000 annually.

In making its recommendation, however, the Appropriations Committee exceeded its authority in that it sought to modify a 1953 ban against any new housing commitments. House Rules Committee clearance was necessary before the House could even consider the recommendation.

The rules group refused to give that clearance at a closed door session. The vote was not announced.

"The End" in House

The effect of the action is that an objection by a single member can eliminate the Appropriations Committee's recommendation when the bill reaches the amendment stage in the House Tuesday.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the Appropriations Committee told newsmen the Rules Committee action means the end of the public housing program in the House.

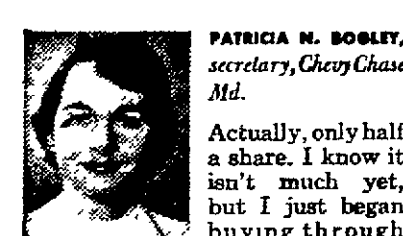

"Last year's ban against new starts still stands," he said. Taber said the Senate may revive the housing program and persuade the House to accept some kind of compromise, as it has done in the past.

Another possibility is that the 1953 ban may be removed when the House considers a general housing bill later this week. The omnibus bill carries out many other parts of the President's housing program, but contains no public housing provision at the present time. It contemplates a stepped-up slum clearance program and more liberal government-insured loans for new or old houses.

How much was your first stock purchase?

[ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS]

Actually, only half a share. I know it isn't much yet, but I just began buying through the Monthly Investment Plan. I hope, though, to build up a little estate for myself. I always thought it took "big money" to own stock, but it doesn't. Look at me!

$1,000 worth. I'd always wanted to own a business, and through stock I now own shares in some of the biggest businesses in the world. Sure, I share the risks, but if I've chosen successful companies, I share the profits, too.

Five shares in a food company. I wanted a good return on my money, and when I learned companies on the New York Stock Exchange pay out half of the nation's dividends, averaging 6%, I put my money in stock.

Sub Bus Line Given Okay

The State Railway Commission announced Monday that they have approved application of Harold E. Hart and George L. Thompson to operate a bus line between Nebraska City and Lincoln making one round trip each day. The morning trip will come to Lincoln and return in the afternoon to Nebraska City.

The service replaces the operation of the Norfolk Stage Lines which has suspended operation between Nebraska City and Lincoln.

The commission also approved the request of Arrow Stage Lines, Inc., to drop certain runs between Sioux City and Norfolk. They will drop one trip on Friday and Saturday and two on Sunday.

Norfolk Transit Lines was given permission to discontinue service within the city of Norfolk after 7 p.m., except on Saturday when the service would continue until 10 p.m.

Eye Disease Much Higher

At a pre-school clinic for blind children and their parents held at the School for the Blind at Nebraska City, an examination by eye specialists showed that 60 per cent of the children attending were afflicted with Rontrolental Fibroplasia.

This disease of the eyes, it was explained, was unknown in Nebraska 15 years ago and an increase of afflicted children has been marked during the past five years. Further research is planned by specialists in the state.

The meeting was attended by about 40 persons, children and parents, to plan for school training.

Parents of Blind Children of Nebraska was organized with the announced intention of trying to have the school moved to another city where aid can be obtained from students attending teachers college and more cultural advantages will be available.

Attending the meeting were children and parents from as far west as North Platte and Ogallala.

EQUITABLE REPORTS FOR 1953:

Why most Americans stand straighter today

Equitable's President tells a story of self-reliance and how it grows as insurance grows

Nearly 90,000,000 Americans are now protected by life insurance... A tremendous figure? Yes. But looking at it another way it is pretty strong evidence that there's a whale of a lot of self-reliance in the make-up of the average American.

He's determined to stand on his own two feet... to face the future with confidence. And he's learned that one of the best ways to do it is through insurance. We are pleased to have helped so many of these Americans stand just a little bit straighter. The Equitable Society today helps protect over 8,000,000 people—a record number! To see what lies behind their self-reliance, look at the figures in The Society's Annual Statement shown here.

While we are the fifth largest corporation in the United States, we're not in business just to publish big figures. We are in business to help more Americans help themselves to individual security and independence. To this end we are continually developing new kinds of insurance... using the tool of intensive research to create modern and forward-looking policies. Recently, for example, we pioneered a new Major Medical Expense Policy. Now we have revised and liberalized it still further. This policy helps protect families against financial disaster resulting from costly or prolonged illness. Its coverage is broadened... its cost is reasonable. We believe this policy clearly demonstrates how independent citizens, working through a mutual company, can build for themselves the kind of insurance program Americans need.

New Potato Variety Is Released For State

Redglo Is Adapted For West

Nebraska's Agricultural Experiment Station has recently released a new red potato variety under the name Redglo.

This variety is well adapted for growing both with irrigation and on dryland in western Nebraska. The tubers are of an exceptionally bright dark red color and mostly of medium size.

Yields of U. S. No. 1 grade potatoes are comparable with those of the varieties now being grown. Station authorities say it is a very good general purpose potato, suitable for boiling and mashing and fairly good for baking and potato chips or french frying.

Commercial quantities of certified seed potatoes of it are available in western Nebraska.

This new variety is one of the products of the extensive potato breeding program conducted under the direction of H. O. Werner in the greenhouses here and field work at the three branch stations in western Nebraska and on farms of many potato growers in all parts of the state.

Guard Officers Confer On Camp

DES MOINES (AP)—Fifty officers of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard 34th Division met to work on simplified operating procedures for their summer camp and armory drills.

The new procedures will eliminate the general orders formerly issued before each summer encampment. The 34th Division will train at Camp Ripley, Minn., Aug. 1-15.

Officers present at the session with Maj. Gen. Ray C. Fountain, Des Moines, division commander, included:

Fred C. Tandy, Des Moines, and Guy N. Henninger, Lincoln, adjutant generals of Iowa and Nebraska respectively; Brig. Gen. Warren Wood, Gering, Neb.; Lt. Col. Evar Peterson and Lt. Col. Francis Greenleaf, both of Lincoln, Neb.; Lt. Col. Kenneth Ristau and Maj. Tom Allan, both of Omaha, and Lt. Col. John McKnight, Auburn, Neb.

'Tootles' Popular With Kearney School Kiddies

Pamela Bahde, Mary Ann Donaldson, Billy Morris and Frank Carrico. In presenting this transportation unit to the kiddies, the purpose has been to stimulate their interest in transportation, to teach them how trains are operated, the purpose of a freight train and a passenger train, what trains do for the people of the community, how the men in the depot and the men on the trains help each other, etc. The children helped in the construction of "Tootles." (Photo Special to The Star.)

Des Moines Added To Network Of Radar Stations For Storms

DES MOINES (AP)—A month and a half ahead of the normal start of the "tornado season," Des Moines has become a station on the growing national radar network to plot storms and help give warnings of tornadoes.

Apparatus for this purpose was installed at the U.S. Weather Bureau station at the Des Moines Municipal Airport under direction of Chief Meteorologist John Hamilton.

About 25 such radar stations are already actively engaged in the effort to keep track of storms over the country. Others will be added soon. Des Moines is the only station contemplated, for the present, in Iowa.

The Des Moines station will check for storms within a radius of 150 miles.

Two-Hour Warning

A two-hour warning can be expected from the new setup before a storm hits. The station can detect almost the exact area where a storm will strike.

The radar in use is a converted navy apparatus modified for ground use.

The radar will not spot light rain or snow flurries. Nor will it actually detect tornadoes. But a severe storm can be sighted and kept under close observation.

Weather Bureau authorities are counting on the new installation to give them much help during the period from mid-May through to July 1 when tornado frequency is heaviest in this section of the country.

Two Nebraska Stations

The national storm warning network was begun in the southwest section of the United States and in the hurricane region of the southeast.

Stations in the cornbelt include Norfolk and North Platte, Neb.; Topeka, Wichita and Dodge City, Kas.; Amarillo and Wichita Falls, Tex.; Little Rock, Ark.; and Chicago.

Stations are to be located soon in Scottsbluff, Neb. and St. Louis, Mo. In addition, the army maintains similar stations at Omaha and Minneapolis.

Mrs. Conway Dies; Wife Of Attorney

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Funeral services for Mrs. James C. D. Conway, 46, wife of a Hastings attorney, will be held at the First Presbyterian Church here Wednesday. She died Monday in a local hospital after an extended illness.

Mrs. Conway, the former Harriett Youngson, was a native of Minden, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a past Hastings area commissioner of the Girl Scouts. While attending the University, she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Survivors include her husband and two daughters.

Retired Chadron Publisher Dies

CHADRON, Neb. (AP)—Charles Pollard, 77, longtime western Nebraska newspaperman, died here Monday.

London-born Pollard retired in 1947 when he sold The Chadron Record. He had come here from Valentine where he had learned the printing business.

An adopted son, Bud Gray, survives. Funeral services are pending.

Chicago Bank Low Bidder On Bonds

OMAHA (AP)—The First National Bank of Chicago was the apparent low bidder on $2,484,000 worth of 5½ to 8½-year Omaha city bonds.

Net interest, with a premium from the bidder deducted, would be 1.45333 per cent.

The bonds are for the radial highways, the new city auditorium, sewers and street resurfacing.

Annual State FHA Meeting To Draw 500

Approximately 500 high school homemaker students, homemaker teachers, chapter mothers and special guests are expected to attend the seventh annual state convention of Nebraska Future Homemakers of America here next Saturday.

The morning session will be held in the Love Library Auditorium with the luncheon and afternoon session in the ballroom of the Student Union.

Dr. William E. Hall of the University of Nebraska will be the guest speaker. Theme of this year's convention is "Today's Dreams, Tomorrow's Homes."

Reports by state officers, adoption of the state program of work for next year and consideration of chapter problems are on the morning agenda.

To Elect Officers

The afternoon session, in addition to Hall's talk, will include a dramatization of the FHA creed, a style show of garments made by FHA members as a part of their homemaker class work, the awarding of chapter honor certificates, state homemaker degrees, honorary memberships and two FHA scholarships. State officers for 1954-55 will be elected and installed during the afternoon session.

Teachers College High chapter, according to Miss Lillian Schmidt of the State Department of Vocational Education, will again be the hostess chapter. Miss Hazel Anthony, homemaker instructor at Teachers High, is the adviser of the chapter and Ann Kossack is chapter president.

Officers of the Nebraska Association of Future Homemakers of America in charge of the convention, under Miss Schmidt's guidance, are:

President—Jaye Wunderlich, Burwell; First Vice-President—Gwen Howitt, Chadron; Second Vice-President—Sharon Stear, Cozad; Secretary—Luellen Johns, Burwell; Treasurer—Barbara Handford, Bassett; Historian—Gerry Myers, Albion; Song Leader—Margie Klipa, Ord; Parliamentarian—Evelyn Todd, Plattsmouth; Recreation chairman—Mary Ann Macdonald, Lincoln; Publicity chairman—Joyce Buckridge, Fremont.

The state officers, together with members of the state advisory board, will meet at the YWCA on Friday night to interview applicants for the two FHA scholarships.

Straight Route Of Highway 67 Is Advocated

Lincoln Star Special

HUMBOLDT, Neb.—A delegation of between 50 and 100 residents of Talmage, Brock, Johnson and Humboldt are scheduled to take their road problem to Governor Robert Crosby in Lincoln Tuesday morning.

The group seeks re-location of Highway 67 from a point west of Humboldt straight north to Dunbar, eliminating present curves and "traffic hazards."

Although bids have been called for on the improvement of the present Highway 67 route, it is hoped by those interested that the proposed re-location plans will be accepted.

One member of the delegation said the present route junctions with Highway 2 at Dunbar at an extremely dangerous point, a steep hill on Dunbar's main street. The proposed re-location would eliminate this bad visibility hazard, it was pointed out.

State senators from this territory are expected to attend the conference with the delegation.

Although state officials thought the southeastern group might want to cancel their meeting in Lincoln because bids had been asked on the Highway 67 project, spokesmen from the group informed the governor they still desired the meeting and it was set for 11:30 a.m. Tuesday at the State Capitol.

Parents Seek Aid For Release Of Son In Manchuria

OMAHA (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William G. Parks of Omaha said they have appealed to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to demand the release of their son, a pilot shot down over Manchuria.

They said they asked that Dulles take up the matter at the conference to be held at Geneva, Switzerland, April 26. The conference will deal with problems in Korea and Indochina with the Nationalists involved, including Red China, taking part.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks said they have also asked Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. chief delegate to the United Nations, to intercede in behalf of their son, 1st Lt. Roland W. Parks.

A jet pilot, Lt. Parks was one of several United Nations fliers shot down in September, 1952, over Manchuria.

Several days afterward Communist Correspondent Wilfred Burchett said the United Nations pilots shot down over Manchuria were not subject to release in the exchange of prisoners. They were held by Manchurian civil authorities who were not a party to the Korean truce agreement, he said, and release of the men would be a matter of diplomatic action.

Although Lt. Parks is officially listed as missing in action, his parents have received information that their son was taken a prisoner.

Their principal informant, they said, was a pilot on the same mission who was shot down on a mission later, captured and liberated last summer in the prisoner exchange. He said information from a Chinese interrogator indicated Lt. Parks was a prisoner in Manchuria.

Ammo Truck, Auto Collide On Icy Road

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—A car carrying two young Norfolk men and an explosives truck were involved in an accident on a snowy highway three miles west of Norfolk on Highway 275.

The explosives-laden trailer section of the truck stayed on the shoulder of the highway but the tractor plunged into a deep roadside ditch.

The driver of the car, Marvin Koupa, 24, Norfolk, told State Safety Patrolman Frank Dineen that his car skidded out of the snow, crossed the highway and hit the truck which was coming from the opposite direction.

One Injured
John E. Morrow, 35, Omaha, driver of the west-bound semi, lost control of the truck and it left the highway, the patrolman said.

Neither Koupa nor Morrow were hurt, but Jack Glaser, 22, Norfolk, who was riding with Koupa, was knocked out of the car by the impact and suffered cuts and bruises.

The truck belonged to Buckingham Transportation Inc.

TOWN TALK

Vacation Fun In Florida

The Orwig Foursome

Second only to the interest Nebraskans have in Bill Orwig, the new director of athletics at the University of Nebraska, is their interest in his family—and we are most happy to present the members of the Orwig foursome in pictorial fashion this morning. In the picture, standing, are

TOWN TALK seems to concern itself with the snow, the cold, and what will happen to the tree buds, and the little green things that have been peering timidly at the world through protective straw, leaves, and numerous other improvised safeguards. But we have a feeling that March, on its way out, merely is being temperamental and assertive—just to leave a mark on our memories.

BUT enough of the weather, trees and so forth—We have news of guests this morning. Hear that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edmiston are to pay Lincoln a visit very soon. In fact Mrs. Edmiston arrives a week from today and will be joined here the following Sunday by Mr. Edmiston for a visit with Mr. Edmiston's mother, Mrs. A. R. Edmiston—whose house guests the visitors will be—and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Folsom.

THEN we heard that Miss Marilyn Pedersen will be arriving from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor on Saturday, to spend her spring holiday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Merritt Pedersen.

THE many friends of Mrs. R. C. Simmons will be happy to learn that Mrs. Simmons, who suffered a stroke last Thursday, is recuperating nicely at Lincoln General Hospital. Mrs. Simmons, who had a paralysis of the left side, will have a complete recovery, according to her physician.

OTHER hospital news this morning has to do with the arrival of Peter King on Sunday, March 28, at Lincoln General Hospital. Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King of North Platte, and his mother is the former Susan Peterson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Peterson. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. King of North Platte.

UNDAY was the day that Mr.

Toastmistress Club Program

Mrs. James Webert presided as toastmistress Monday evening at the regular dinner-meeting of the Lincoln Toastmistress Club held at the Capital Hotel.

Included among the speakers for the evening were Miss and Mrs. James A. Clark Jr., and their daughter, Connie, took off on the first lap of their journey to Iraq where they will reside for the next two years, and where Mr. Clark, who has been with the state health department, is to be a sanitarian.

Edith Lumsden, Miss Gustafson and Mrs. Roy Sheaff, and serving as general evaluator was Miss Esteline Porter. Mrs. Angeline Camp was topic mistress during the dinner. A guest of the club was Mrs. Ann Kryger.

We Hear That--

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dell of Alexandria, Va., have announced the birth of a daughter, Marcia Lorraine, on Wednesday, March 24. Mrs. Dell is the former Hulda Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Lincoln. Marcia Lorraine has two brothers, Bruce and Keith.

Visiting in Lincoln last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Elwin G. Murray who flew from their home in North Platte to be the guests of Mr. Murray's mother, Mrs. Florence Murray, and sister Miss Beverly Murray. The guests returned to their homes by plane on Monday.

Gavels Can Be Fun

MRS. F. H. BARMORE

The Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs executive board includes two officers who have an enviable record of service to their communities and to their state. These officers, who will be among the prominent Nebraska women presiding at the organization's annual convention in Lincoln April 7, 8 and 9, are Mrs. F. H. Barmore of Lexington, first vice president of the state federation, and Mrs. Roy Magill of Holdrege, recording secretary.

Cited in Who's Who for her work on the Hoover Commission report, Mrs. Barmore was appointed to the civil defense committee by the governor. She has served as secretary for the Nebraska Public Health Association and as co-chairman for the Infantile Paralysis organization, and is a past county Democratic Chairman, state Democratic Chairwoman and Democratic National Committeewoman.

Added to all this, Mrs. Barmore has found the time in her busy schedule to take part in the activities of the Lexington Presbyterian Church, for which she has served as teacher and superintendent of the Sunday School. She also organized the Inter-Church Council in Lexington and served as the council's president for seven years.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, from which she also received her Masters Degree, Mrs. Barmore taught education and speech for eight years, and has added to her list of accomplishments becoming a partner with her husband in the drug business. She has one son, Richard, who is a student at the University of Nebraska, and confesses to a weakness for antique glass and china, which she collects at every opportunity.

Mrs. Barmore has served as president of the Lexington Woman's Club and of the Dawson County Federation. She was vice president of the federation's Sixth District and served as secretary and second vice president of the state organization before assuming her present position. She also has served as state chairman of the public welfare committee, the budget committee and extension committee. She also is active in the Business and Professional Women's Club, the American Association of University Women, the American Legion Auxiliary, and is an honorary member of Delta Kappa Gamma educational organization.

A strong advocate of travel is Mrs. Roy Magill of Holdrege, recording secretary of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, who has had plenty of opportunity to pursue her hobby through her many club and civic associations.

A native of Fremont, Mrs. Magill attended both Midland College at Fremont, and the University of Nebraska, and served as an instructor in Nebraska high schools for 10 years. She was principal of the Leshara, Arthur and Benedict schools, superintendent of schools at Leshara, and head of the English department for Holdrege High School.

Well-known over the state for her work with the Camp Fire Girls organization, Mrs. Magill was executive director of the Lincoln Camp Fire Girls over five years, conducted activities at Camp Kiwanis for six seasons, and served as a national staff member of the Phillips Foundation of the National Council of Camp Fire Girls, for which she received national recognition.

For 10 years Mrs. Magill was Phelps County Red Cross chairman, and she helped to organize the Holdrege Community Concert Association which is in its eighth year. She has been active in promoting the establishment of the Memorial Home for the Aged in Holdrege, and served as chairman for the 36th congressional district in compiling the report for the White House Mid-Century Conference on Children and Youth.

Active in the First Presbyterian Church at Holdrege, Mrs. Magill loves gardening and experimenting with flower arrangements, and has served as president of the Holdrege Garden Club. She also is a member and past matron of OES, secretary of the Western Nebraska Past Matrons Association, a member of Chapter H, PEO, of the Nebraska Council of Better Education, and of the National Association for Parliamentarians.

A woman's club member since 1936, Mrs. Magill has served as president of the Holdrege Club, of the Phelps County Federation and of the state organization's Fifth District. A member of the state board for four years, she is a past chairman of conservation of youth, and has represented the state at national conventions and board meetings.

We're sure that everyone in Lincoln will be more appreciative of a picture of Florida fun this morning than they would have been this time last week—And the foursome we find having all of the fun at the Isle de Capri hotel on Harbor Island, Miami Beach, Fla., are Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Sidles (standing) and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piper of Denver, Colo. The Sidles and the Pipers make an attractive foursome at the buffet supper, the shipwreck parties, and the fishing expeditions that are so much a part of Florida fun. You might like to know, also, that Mr. Piper caught the biggest blue marlin fish in the Miami area just recently. It tipped the scales at 489 pounds.

LWC Group

Mrs. Nathan Grossman presided at the meeting of the Lincoln Woman's Club American citizenship department Monday afternoon when the group elected Mrs. Frank O'Connell leader for the coming year.

Other officers, all of whom will be installed next Monday afternoon at a meeting to be held at the First Federal Building, are Mrs. Lillian A. Elliott, assistant leader, and Mrs. J. T. Holland, secretary-treasurer.

DAC Chapter Luncheon

Mrs. G. A. Ackerman will entertain the members of the Hannah Duston Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists, at a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon Saturday at her home, 333 West Calvert.

Mrs. O. G. Palmer of York will present a paper on "Nebraska Pioneers," and presiding at the meeting will be Miss Jeanette Speelman, regent. Mrs. Hazel Bogue will assist Mrs. Ackerman as hostess.

THE STAR WELCOMES:

Lt. and Mrs. Abraham Dash and their two sons, Michael, 10 years old, and Gregory, nine, who arrived from Riverside, Calif., a few days ago to make Lincoln their home during the lieutenant's tour of duty at the Lincoln air base. Lt. Dash and his family were fortunate enough to find a house about six minutes from the field, so that the commuting problem is practically nil. Michael and Gregory both attend the Consolidated school which is near their home.

with one of the larger tire and rubber companies in Lincoln, and the family is residing at 1623 G St.

When Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wahl moved off their farm near Fairbury, they decided to make Lincoln their home—and arrived here just a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wahl have two sons, Dale, who lives at home, and Robert, who is married and resides in Lincoln.

While in Fairbury Mrs. Wahl was a member of the Woman's club and the Rock Creek Community club.

For Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ormsky, moving to Lincoln was almost a homecoming because they resided here for two years once upon a time. This time they came from Grand Island, via Beatrice—having resided in the latter place just a matter of months.

April Bride-Elect

MISS MARGARET ARRIAGA

Announcement is made this morning by the Rev. and Mrs. E. V. Garcia of Scottsbluff, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Margaret Arriaga, to Earl Lisle Robinett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinett of Lincoln.

The wedding is planned for the afternoon of Saturday, April 10, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the First Baptist Church in Lincoln.

Miss Arriaga is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and now is a member of the Huntington school faculty. Her fiancé is attending the University of Nebraska college of agriculture.

BSP Chapter Activities

Members of Alpha Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a Gold Rush party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson with their husbands as special guests.

The program of entertainment included a reading by Willis Hecht and a preview of the skit which the chapter will present at the sorority's annual Fun Night Tuesday evening. The remainder of the evening was spent square dancing. Mrs. Myron White was in charge of the arrangements.

Preceding the chapter's regular meeting last Friday evening, the members attended the book review sponsored by the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pressure Against H-Tests Faces U.S. Diplomats

Churchill Behind Drive To Reshape East-West Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — American observers warned that the United States faces a crucial diplomatic period in view of widened allied pressure for cancellation of hydrogen bomb tests, the expansion of East-West trade and easing of opposition to Red China in the United Nations as a price for peace in Indo-China.

Top level experts at United Nations pointed out that on each of the three cardinal points, the United States will be the loser and Russia the gainer if a concession on either occurs.

Prevailing opinion is that British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, rumored to be retiring next June, is the moving power behind the three-pronged drive for reshaping Western relations with Russia and Red China.

The outcry on the hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific is coupled with a concurrent drive for abolishing such weapons. Australian scientist L. S. Martin said such a conference has become necessary because of the staggering destructive power shown by the March 1 H-bomb test in the Pacific.

Embargoes It is pointed out at the United Nations that the control pact for atom weapons agreed upon by all but the Soviet bloc—embodying inspection and policing based on numerous safeguard provisions—include also hydrogen bombs.

Dispatches from London disclosed that Churchill in his talks with United States Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen linked British alarm over the hydrogen bomb tests to similar uneasiness over stagnant East-West trade. He is pressing for dropping allied embargoes on goods to Communist lands.

The sore point of East-West trade will jump into the limelight at the United Nations Tuesday when the new session of the economic and social council gets underway. Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky has filed a resolution demanding that all agenda questions be held in abeyance to give top priority to the issue of East-West trade.

Vishinsky's resolution may rally majority support in the 18-member council. A recent session of the economic commission for Europe in Geneva enthusiastically endorsed the principle of winding down embargoes and doing business with Soviet bloc countries on a large scale. United States opposition is most likely to be over-riden.

Tuna Condemned

TOKYO (Tuesday) — Japanese health officials condemned as harmful radioactive the 80,000-pound tuna catch of a fishing boat that was 200 miles away from the March 1 hydrogen blast at the U. S. testing grounds in mid-Pacific.

They still pondered whether to condemn the 74,000-pound catch of another boat showing evidence of radiation although it was 780 miles away from the blast site.

Aid Pact Attacked

TOKYO (Tuesday) — Socialists used mounting Japanese tension over the March 1 hydrogen blast in the Pacific as the basis for an attack in the Diet on the pending U. S.-Japan Mutual Aid Defense Pact.

They demanded but failed to get government assurances that the United States would not stockpile atomic weapons in Japan.

Nehru Asks Halt

NEW DELHI, India — Prime Minister Nehru called for an end to experiments with the hydrogen bomb.

The Indian statesman thereby added his voice to a rising global clamor—especially in the exposed island realms of Britain and Japan—for a halt to tests of thermonuclear devices.

Nehru specifically mentioned scheduled American tests in the Pacific, but made no reference to similar experiments being carried on in the Soviet Union.

Larceny Conviction Brings $25 Fine

Harry W. Hikes, 32, of 102 West A, was fined $25 in Lancaster County Court after he pleaded guilty to petit larceny involving the theft of $21 worth of copper wire at the Lincoln air base.

Judge Herbert Ronin was told Air Police had stopped Hikes after he was found in a restricted zone, had agreed to follow them to headquarters, but then sped away in his car.

Asked why he attempted to get away, Hikes said "I wanted to get rid of the wire." "I guess that was a frank answer," said Judge Ronin in assessing the defendant, who had not been in previous trouble and was family man with five children, a "minimum fine of $25."

Milleson Is Placed On 3-Years Probation

Clay Leon Milleson, 32, of 2701 No. 27th, Apt. 1, was placed on three years probation by Lancaster District Judge Harry Spencer. Milleson had pleaded guilty to forgery of a $55 check on March 7, 1954. The court was advised by Adult Probation Officer George Meyer that the defendant had "not been in previous trouble" and had written the check and others because financial setback caused personal misfortunes.

Excise Tax Bill Cuts May Go Into Effect Thursday

WASHINGTON — Here are provisions of the big excise tax-cutting bill which will go into effect Wednesday midnight if finally approved by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

A Senate-House Conference Committee approved a compromise of differing versions passed by the two houses and sent it back for final adoption.

The compromise bill would cut the tax on most household appliances from 10 to 5 per cent—a Senate move which had been left out by the House. Affected would be refrigerators, stoves, home freezers, hot water heaters, electric irons, electric blankets, toasters, mixers, clothes dryers, dishwashers, power lawn mowers and garbage disposers.

It would wipe out any tax on movie or other admissions costing 50 cents or less. The House had specifically rejected this proposal, but the Senate bill would have exempted admissions of 60 cents or less.

Athletic Event

The bill also knocks out any tax on regular-season college athletic events, non-profit museums or exhibits, and amateur civic theaters—another Senate provision which had been left out by the House.

But it keeps the present 20 per cent rate on horse and dog race track admissions, night club and cabaret admissions, and club dues. The House bill would have cut these, too, but the Senate specifically cancelled those cuts.

The House bill had simply cut all admission taxes from 20 per cent to 10 per cent. The compromise version calls for this cut on all other admissions, including those above 50 cents, not dealt with specifically in the bill.

Firearms

The committee agreed to a Senate amendment eliminating tax refunds on tractor fuels and other gasoline substitutes used for non-highway purposes.

The committee accepted a Senate amendment knocking out a House-approved cut from 11 to 10 per cent in the tax on firearms and shells.

These cuts were approved by both houses: From 20 to 10 per cent—furs, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, electric light bulbs, cameras and film.

From 25 to 10 per cent—long-distance telephone bills and leased wires.

From 15 to 10 per cent—sporting goods, mechanical pencils and pens, lighters, rail-bus-and-plane fares, local telephone bills, and telegrams.

Cigarettes

Cuts previously scheduled for Thursday which are cancelled by the bill:

Liquor, from $10.50 to $9 a gallon.

Cigarettes, 8 to 7 cents a standard pack.

Gasoline, 2 to 1½ cents a gallon.

Autos, 10 to 7 per cent.

Trucks, buses and vehicle parts, 8 to 5 per cent.

Beer, $9 to $8 a barrel.

Wine, about 30 per cent, depending on alcoholic content.

The bill does not affect the present 10 per cent tax on radio and television sets, air conditioners, musical instruments, business machines, phonograph records; the 13-cent tax on playing cards; the 3 per cent tax on freight shipments; the 10 per cent tax on wagers; other tobacco taxes or various dealer and franchise taxes.

Wholesale Beer Firm Incorporates

Lincoln Beverage Co., Inc., filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Monday to engage in the wholesale sale of beer. Authorized capital is $10,000. Leander M. and Juliana M. Kalin are incorporators.

They filed a release, signed by S. S. Swift, Santa Barbara, Calif., for use of the name of Lincoln Beverage Co. That firm name was originally held by Swift Lumber & Fuel Co.

Nebraska Rug and Furniture Mart of Lincoln, Inc., also filed with authorized capital of $100,000. Arnold Ehlers of Lincoln and Jack E. Gates of Omaha were incorporators.

Lloyd M. Reed Denied Habeas Corpus Writ After District Court Hearing

The habeas corpus writ of Lloyd M. Reed of Council Bluffs, Ia., who is serving a Lancaster County jail term, was denied by District Judge Harry Spencer following a hearing Monday.

Reed, about 50, pleaded guilty Feb. 9 to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 11-year-old girl and was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $300 by Acting Judge Ralph Slocum.

In the hearing, Reed testified that he had been denied legal counsel, was not informed of his legal rights, and "had not understood the nature of the charge."

Reed Advised

Chief Deputy Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele testified he had advised Reed of his legal rights, the nature of the charge and maximum penalty, and that "at no time did Reed say he wanted a lawyer."

Judge Slocum testified that

Dr. McCain To Address NU Honors Convocation

The 26th annual University of Nebraska Honors Convocation will be held next Tuesday, April 6, at 10:15 a.m. in the Coliseum to recognize students for outstanding achievements.

Dr. James A. McCain, president of Kansas State College, will give the principal address. His topic will be "The Premium on Excellence."

The University will recognize the top 10 per cent of each class of each college or school during the two preceding semesters; senior students in the upper three per cent of their respective colleges; student organizations; and recipients of prizes and awards.

Award to Be Given

In addition, the recipient of the $1,000 outstanding teacher award will be announced. The yearly award was established for the first time this year by the University of Nebraska Foundation.

W. W. Putney, of Lincoln, vice president of the Foundation, will present the award. Acting Chancellor John K. Selleck will preside at the convocation. Rev. I. J. Dumas, pastor of Unitarian Church, Lincoln, will deliver the invocation. Dr. Paul Meadows, chairman of the Convocation Committee, will present candidates for certificates of superior scholarship. The University Symphony orchestra, directed by Prof. Emanuel Wisniewski, will play.

Dr. McCain succeeded Milton

DR. MCCAIN

Eisenhower in 1950 as president of Kansas State College. Prior to this, he was president of University of Montana from 1945.

Served as Consultant

For 13 years he was on the staff of Colorado A and M College first as a teacher of journalism and director of publications, and later as assistant to the president, and dean of the summer session.

In 1948, Dr. McCain served as consultant to the state of New York on the administrative organization of the new State University. He holds a Bachelor of Arts and an LL.D. from Wofford College, Spartanburg, S.C., a Master's degree from Duke, and his doctorate degree from Stanford University.

Russian Is Given U.S. Asylum

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Russian soldier who said he detested Communism and was fed up with the Red Army has been granted asylum by U. S. forces in Austria. It was announced. He is the second Russian military man to be given refuge in four days.

The soldier was identified as Pvt. Yuri Hodocol, 20, a machine-gun guard at the 23rd Soviet Artillery Division headquarters at Korneuburg, near Vienna. He said he had planned his flight to the American zone for more than six months.

Method Not Told

U. S. officers announced last Friday a 26-year-old Russian officer, Senior Lt. Alexei Pavlovich Voyakin, had been granted asylum. An officer in a Soviet rifle regiment, Voyakin claimed he disagreed with his government's policies.

The Army announcement said the Soviet commander in Austria has been notified that Hodocol has been given political asylum by the United States. It gave no hint as to how the Soviet machine-gunner had reached the American zone but said he had asked asylum Feb. 19.

Hodocol was quoted as saying that besides "detesting Communism" he particularly disliked the Russian youth movements. The private said he had been in the Russian Army since 1932.

Training Program Held By Co-Ops

Approximately 45 directors and managers of farmers co-operatives from seven Southeastern counties attended an all-day educational training program in Lincoln Monday.

The program was sponsored by the Nebraska Co-operative Council. Gale Anderson of Lincoln, council secretary, demonstrated directional control charts which indicate financial positions and trends in operating the organizations.

Dr. Clayton Libeau, marketing specialist from the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture extension department, explained a survey which he is conducting to determine all taxes paid by farmer-owned co-operatives.

Wilbur Thompson, vice president of the Omaha Bank for Co-operatives, discussed new angles in financing.

3rd Guilty Plea In Morals Case

A Lincoln youth, 17, has pleaded guilty in Lancaster County Court to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He is the third youth to plead guilty in County Court in connection with an incident in a parked car near the Lincoln ball park involving a 13-year-old girl.

Sentencing of the youth was deferred pending an investigation by the adult probation officer. Cases of the other two youths, 18 and nearly 18, have also been continued for sentencing.

A fourth youth, 16, was found to be delinquent by the Juvenile Court, which continued the case for disposition.

Raab Appointment Okayed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee Monday approved the nomination of William Raab of Omaha to be U. S. marshal for the District of Nebraska. It was one of 12 nominations of federal judges, attorneys and marshals approved by the committee.

CHICAGO CUBS FIRE PHIL CAVARRETTA

—Chiefs' Skipper Likes Pitching— Wietelmann: 'Long Way To Go Before Opener'

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. — The Lincoln Chiefs were back at the rudiments Monday after splitting a week-end double-header with the strong Corpus Christi Clippers.

Manager Whitey Wietelmann, happy over his club's showing in shutting out the Clippers 6-0 in the second game, still says there is plenty of room for improvement.

"We're rounding into top condition, but we still have a long way to go before that Western League season opens in two weeks," Wietelmann said.

"I was especially encouraged Sunday over the pitching performance of Jack Larson, Ray

ROGER WRIGHT

Laque and Bob Mathieson, who gave Corpus only two infield singles," continued the fiery Lincoln skipper. "I thought that Larson looked especially good. He's big (190 pounds) and durable and never had to really throw hard Sunday.

"Mathieson looked like everything he was advertised. He had Corpus off balance all the time he was in there."

The temperature again read a perspiring 85 degrees Monday as the Chiefs sweated through a two-hour drill that touched on all of the fundamentals.

The starting infield continued to include Moose Womack, first base; Jim Fairchild, shortstop; Larry Neal, third base, and Fred Hancock and Eugene Castiglione alternates at second.

Fairchild, although getting only one single in nine trips against the Clippers, performed brilliantly on defense. He showed ability to go deep to either his right or left and showed an accurate peg to first.

Neal and Outfielder Andy Anderson are leading the Chiefs' hitting with three hits in eight trips. Neal has smashed a single, double and triple while Anderson has parked three doubles, all against the right field fence.

"I think both of those boys are going to hit good," commented Wietelmann, a skipper who tolerates no ornaments in his lineup.

In their third exhibition game at Galveston Wednesday night, Wietelmann will use a trio of veterans on the mound.

Norm Brown will start and will be followed by Andy Bush and Roger Wright.

"We know what these pitchers can do, but we want to give them some work," Whitey commented.

New NU Director To Speak Briefly

Bill Orwig, newly selected athletic director of the University of Nebraska, will speak briefly at the Chamber of Commerce "Meet the 1954 Cornhusker Squad" public affairs luncheon, Wednesday noon.

The luncheon at the Chamber Building, will feature the Nebraska squad and the coaching staff, Chairman Elsworth DuTeau said. Head Coach Bill Glassford will be the principal speaker and will introduce his squad members.

"We are especially pleased," DuTeau said, "that we are able to have those most vitally concerned with the success of the university's football program to be seated at our speakers' table."

A limited number of luncheon tickets are still available. They may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office.

A Clan Plan

Nebraska probably will, on occasion, field a football team next fall that has:

Chuck Smith, Franklin, N. H., at quarterback; Bob Smith, Grand Island, at fullback; Howard Smith, Lewistown, Ill., at one end, and Don Schmid, Columbus, Neb., at the other end.

Coach Bill Glassford is mulling over a play in which quarterback Smith laterals to fullback Smith who passes to End Smith who laterals to End Schmid.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. — Norm Brown, kingpin of Western League pitchers and a thorough student of baseball, pulled up a chair beside The Firing Line in the Lincoln Chiefs' dressing room here at Clipper Field.

"It's sure different than it was at Victoria a year ago, isn't it?" Norm opined. "Danny Holten was the only one in my camp who knew anything about the Western League then. Now there are at least 10 of us who know the league from playing in it last summer."

We were presently joined by Red McQuillen, Andy Bush and Tom Neill, the other "over thirty" vets of the Chiefs' squad.

"Say, who's managing those other Western League teams?" asked McQuillen who will be 37 next month, but still appears to have plenty of baseball mileage left.

With that, The Firing Line hauled out a list of 1954 skip-pers which the foursome scanned eagerly.

"I know Ferrell Anderson of Omaha," exclaimed Red. "He was with the Cards when I was with the Browns in St. Louis. Hitches his head sideways when he bats. Has sort of odd kind of vision. Real nice fella."

"Yeh, I've known Andy, too," chipped in Bush.

All four figured that Andy Cohen would be back at Denver.

"One of the league's smartest guys," chimed in Neill. "I'll bet Brownie is glad we got one of Andy's best boys."

He nodded to another corner of the dressing room where Orin Anderson, the fleet, hard-hitting ex-Denver outfielder was tugging on a jersey.

"Yeh, Andy used to cause all of our pitchers a lot of grief," Brown added, glancing Anderson's way. "He can run and spear 'em out in rightfield, too. Didn't he steal some hits from you, Tom?"

Neill nodded and said, "You bet he did."

"That Les Peden (at Des Moines) is a nice guy and a helluva good ball player," Neill continued. "I knew him in the Pacific Coast League."

Others known by the Chiefs' veterans were Herb Brett at Wichita, Mickey Livingston at Colorado Springs and Goldie Holt at Pueblo.

"I guess about everyone knows Goldie," chimed in Bush in his soft Kentucky drawl. "Goldie is a real character."

After the Western's managers were bartered over, the four-some asked about the player personnel on rival teams. All expressed surprise when we told them about Denver buying five players from Omaha, including Herb Mancini and Earl Weaver.

"You know, after looking em all over I think we've got as good a squad as anyone," Brown said firmly, and the others nodded. "We've got as many old boys who know the league as anyone and some of these new ones like Neal, Castiglione, Anderson and Bragg look like they'll help plenty. A year ago were pretty much in the dark. Now we know what we're getting into and I think we're going to do okay."

We'll halt this missive on Mr. Brown's pleasant prediction. He talks baseball like he pitches, you know. He usually has the situation pretty well thought out.

Double Steal Backfires

Methodical Bobo Goes Ahead

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — There are few fighters as methodical in their training as Middleweight Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson who went ahead with his scheduled roadwork Monday despite a snowstorm.

Before most of the city was awake—probably including Welterweight King Kid Gavilan—Bobo pulled on his sweat suit, laced up his tennis shoes and set forth for his daily running routine over the Alaskan landscape.

Early risers enroute to work must have gazed in awe as they passed a small pony track near Lincoln Park Zoo.

In good weather, this place teems with small fry making like Roy Rogers riding to a rescue on a Shetland pony for a nickle.

This morning Olson was on the track, trotting around in a sticky five inches of snow. The snow was still whistling in from the north as Olson continued circling the small ring until he was encrusted with it from head to foot and looked like an animated snow man.

Willie Wharton, his determined little trainer, stood near the rail. "Once more and it'll be 32 times around," he shouted to Olson. "That should make four miles."

The Hawaii-born Olson lunged around the last lap, then pulled up beside Wharton, arms swinging like a big polar bear and his face a beefy red like Santa Claus.

"Now for breakfast," said Olson, a man who lets actions speak louder than words. "I think I like to run on the sand at the beach better than in snow. But both are good for your legs."

Breakfast consisted of two dishes of prunes, nine softboiled eggs, nine pieces of toast and a pint of hot tea.

"Olson won't do any boxing until Tuesday," said his manager, Sid Flaherty. "I've heard some of you reporters say that you thought Olson has been holding back his punches in sparring."

"It's all bunk having a couple of guys murder each other when they are sparring. They're only in there for condition. Anyway, Olson has a bad habit of ruining his sparmates with blows to the body. Just remember, those guys he's boxing are my fighters also—I don't want anybody to get hurt."

Flaherty explained that Olson used overstuffed 18-ounce gloves in his workouts while the others used the regular 14-ounce gloves. (Six-ounce gloves are worn in the title fight.)

"Just say it's for precautionary measures," Sid said.

Meanwhile, Gavilan looked out of his hotel window and dispensed with roadwork. He did some boxing in the afternoon.

There are many ways to beat Olson," the confident Cuban Hawk philosophized. "Maybe, I let them come to me first couple of times. I feel them out in first round. Then I know heem like I do. I beat heem, you'll see. Maybe by knockout, maybe not."

"I think (Gil) Turner much harder puncher than heem. But Olson throws lots of punches like Turner. I took care of Turner in 11 rounds."

Odds favoring Olson in Friday night's title scrap at Chicago Stadium have dropped to 9-5 and 7-5. If you like Olson you lay 9-5 and if you take Gavilan you get 7-5. The odds on man-to-man betting is 8-5. By ring time they may be 6-5, take your pick.

Jackson Stops Foe In Sixth

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP) — Tommy Jackson, a buzz saw puncher who has been fighting pro only 20 months, Monday night became an outstanding heavyweight challenger by stopping Dan Bucceroni, third ranking contender from Philadelphia, in 1:53 of the sixth round of a ten rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena. Jackson weighed 191½ and Bucceroni, 192.

The 22-year-old New York Negro, a 2 to 1 underdog, wore down the hard-punching, 26-year-old Bucceroni with a non-stop attack that had Dan reeling and bleeding with his right eye almost completely shut.

Referee Al Berl stopped the fight after the superbly conditioned youngster pounded Bucceroni with a dozen straight blows.

Bucceroni, who was almost a cinch to get a title shot in September, risked his chances for a $10,000 guarantee. He blew it all against a rough, tough fighter who never stopped throwing leather from the opening bell.

Bucceroni, winner of nine in a row over the last 22 months and a knockout victor in 30 of his 50 previous fights, hit the durable Jackson with his Sunday punch time and again and it never stopped Tommy for a moment.

Jackson, nicknamed "Hurricane," "Animal" and "The Beast" for his ceaseless punching and his ability to absorb punishment, scored his fifth straight triumph and his third in a row over a "name" opponent.

In the last two months he stopped Ray Layne in six rounds and trounced Clarence Henry. He earned a No. 7 rating for those wins and now he ranks up there with Ezzard Charles, Nino Valdes and Roland LaStarza.

Hurricane opened a cut over Buccy's right eye in the second round, had the same orb half-closed by the fourth and nearly shut when Berl stopped the buzz saw machine from chopping up further Bucceroni's battered and bleeding face.

Former Nebraska Lad Wins Skating Honors

A former Loup City native has added another trophy to his collection of skating laurels.

He is Tim Brown, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown of Glendora, Calif., who won the National Junior Men's figure skating championship. He is former novice champ.

Born in Loup City where his father, a former Husker footballer, was coaching, Tim is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Brown of Lincoln. Both parents are University of Nebraska graduates.

Pirates Close Camp

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates closed their spring training camp Monday and began a tour in which they will play 13 exhibition games with American League teams.

The Pirates will play four teams during the trip. Nine of the games will be against the Philadelphia Athletics.

So far, the Pirates have won ten games and lost six for a percentage of .625—best among the National League clubs in the Grapefruit Circuit.

Stan Hack To Replace Ex-Teammate As Pilot

DALLAS (AP) — Phil Cavarretta was fired as manager of the Chicago Cubs Monday and Stan Hack, another former Cub star, was named to succeed him.

Hack, manager of Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League for the past three years, will take over the club at Shreveport Wednesday. Hack is in Los Angeles but will fly to Shreveport.

The firing of Cavarretta came after the Cubs had lost a 4-3 exhibition game here to the Baltimore Orioles.

Cavarretta was relieved of his post by Wid Matthews, director of playing personnel of the Chicago organization. The only reason was that "it was for the best interests of all concerned."

The Cubs, who have lost 15 of 20 games along the exhibition trail, will play Baltimore here again today with Coach Bob Shefling in charge of the team.

Cavarretta, 37, spent all 20 of his years in the major leagues with the Cubs. He was named manager in mid-season of 1951 to replace Frankie Frisch. His club finished fifth in 1952—his first full season as manager—and was seventh last year.

Hack finished his playing career in 1947 and has managed Des Moines in the Western League and Springfield, Mass., in the International League.

Ironically, the first time Cavarretta brought a major league club to his adopted home—Dallas—he was fired.

Matthews' dismissal of the long-time Cub idol stunned Chicago fans. There had been no indication that the director of player personnel, Owner P. K. Wrigley or other executives were dissatisfied with his handling of the team.

When Cavarretta was given a new contract following the Cubs' seventh-place finish last season—his third one-year pact—Matthews declared:

"Phil did a good job with a team that was hobbled by injuries all season. He rated a new contract. Our slide from fifth place in 1952 to seventh in 1953 was because of the break we got against Phil. He had to play men who weren't in shape to play because of injuries."

Cavarretta first joined the Cubs in 1934, a hustling 17-year-old kid fresh out of Chicago's Lane Tech High School. He won the regular first base job on the pennant-winning 1935 team.

In all, he participated in three World Series and as many all-star games. His .355 average in 1945, the Cubs' last pennant year, won the National League batting title. The same season he also was voted the league's most valuable player.

Cavarretta had a lifetime National League batting average of .291. He retired from active play after the 1953 season, although since he became manager in mid-season, 1951, he had inserted himself in the lineup infrequently, mostly as a pinch hitter.

Like Cavarretta, Hack is one of the all-time Cub playing greats. A third baseman, he was a teammate of the departed Cub pilot for many years, reaching his peak years in the late '20s.

Hack led the Cubs in batting in 1938, 1940, 1941 and 1942, with averages of .320, .317, .317 and .300.

He retired from active play in 1947 and served as manager of the Cubs' Des Moines affiliate in the Western League in 1948 and 1949 and of the Springfield, Mass., affiliate in the International League in 1950.

He has been manager at Los Angeles since. He led the Angels to third place in the Pacific Coast League in 1951, sixth in 1952 and,

THE JACKSON TWINS By Dick Brooks

I CAN'T HELP BEING CURIOUS, JIM... JUST WHAT DID MR. AKERS HAVE IN MIND FOR US TO DO?

A SUPER DUPE! MODERN JOB WITH FIVE BATHS, I HOPE!

HE MENTIONED A NEW FOUR BED-ROOM PLACE WITH A LOT OF EXTRAS—UP ON EVERGREEN HEIGHTS BUT I SAID NOTHING DOING!

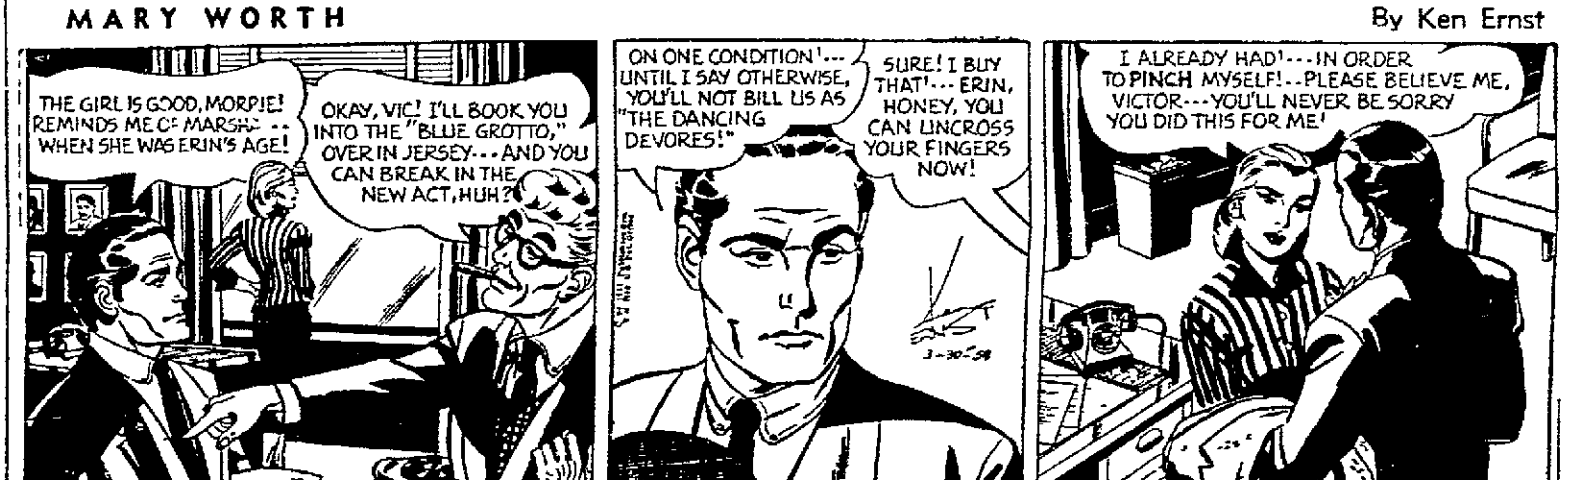

LATER... JUST THINK WHAT A BIG HOUSE WOULD BE! JILL, A GAME ROOM FOR BIGGER AND BETTER PARTIES...

AND A GUEST ROOM SO KIDS COULD STAY FOR A WEEK-ENDS!

UH HUH

YOU KNOW, TWIN, I'LL BET DADDY'D TAKE ME THAT OFFER IF WE REALLY WENT TO WORK AND CAMPAIGNED FOR IT!

MARY WORTH By Ken Ernst

THE GIRL IS GOOD, MORPHE! REMINDS ME OF MARSH... WHEN SHE WAS ERIN'S AGE!

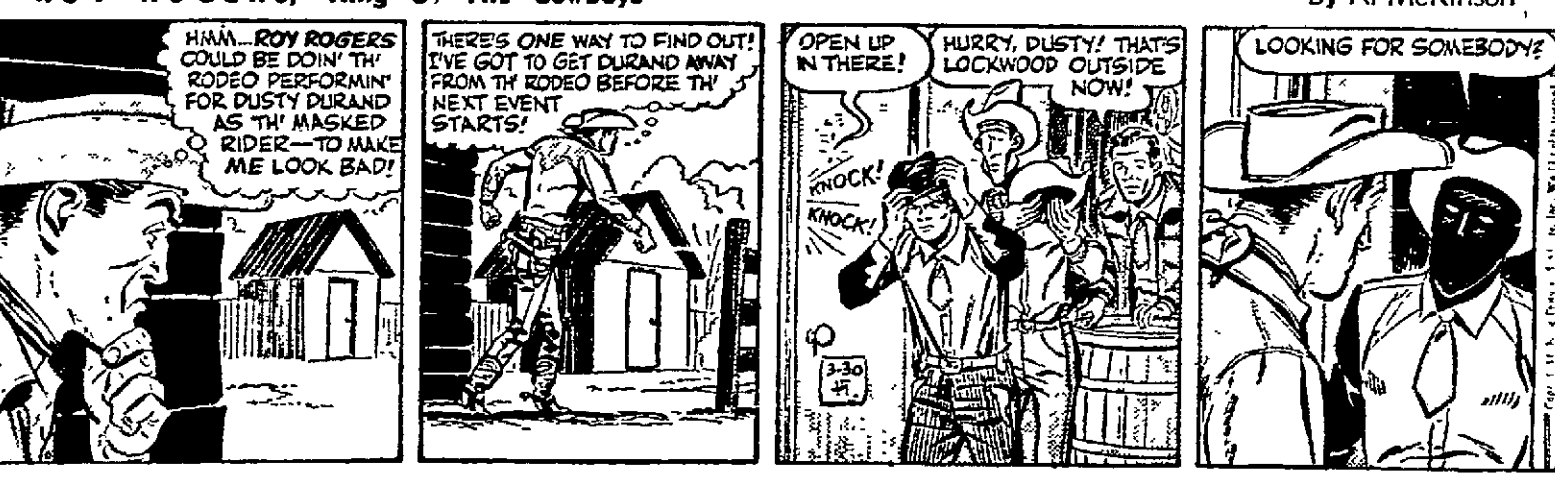

OKAY, VIC! I'LL BOOK YOU INTO THE "BLUE GROTTO," OVER IN JERSEY... AND YOU CAN BREAK IN THE NEW ACT, HUH?

ON ONE CONDITION!... UNTIL I SAY OTHERWISE, YOU'LL NOT BILL US AS "THE DANCING DEVILS!"

SURE! I BUY THAT!... ERIN, HONEY, YOU CAN UNCRASS YOUR FINGERS NOW!

I ALREADY HAD!... IN ORDER TO PINCH MYSELF!... PLEASE BELIEVE ME, VICTOR... YOU'LL NEVER BE SORRY YOU DID THIS FOR ME!

ROY ROGERS, King Of The Cowboys By Al McKinson

HMM... ROY ROGERS COULD BE DOIN' TH' RODEO PERFORMIN' FOR DUSTY DURAND AS TH' MASKED RIDER—TO MAKE ME LOOK BAD!

THERE'S ONE WAY TO FIND OUT! I'VE GOT TO GET DURAND AWAY FROM TH' RODEO BEFORE TH' NEXT EVENT STARTS!

OPEN UP IN THERE! HURRY, DUSTY! THAT'S LOCKWOOD OUTSIDE NOW!

QUIRKS

MILWAUKEE (A)—Donald Graskie, 20, legging it in pursuit of a burglar he had seen smash a jewelry store window, yelled for two men in a parked car to help him. One of the men jumped out and executed a neat block-on-Graskie. The burglar got into the car with the blocker and his other accomplice and away they went.

MEMPHIS (A)—Two defendants in city court described their fight in a grocery as "a little disagreement." But store owner O. L. Graham sadly told the judge: "They threw a brick through a window and it damaged a car outside. They damaged my $2,600 refrigerator and I lost $175 in meat. They smashed 30 quarts of mayonnaise, 30 bottles of olives and wrecked a container with 100 dozen light bulbs. Then they ruined 16 pounds of coffee." Curtis Stewart was fined $306. John Owens $102.

M'Carthy To Address GOP At Fremont

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin will be the keynote speaker at the Nebraska Republican primary convention in Fremont May 24, GOP State Chairman David T. Martin announced. He will speak at an evening gathering in the Fremont City Auditorium. Martin said the pre-primary convention "will mark the beginning of an aggressive campaign in Nebraska in which our goal is to retain Nebraska 100 per cent in the Republican column."

"We intend to have several topflight speakers in Nebraska this year, and this convention, with Sen. McCarthy as our keynote, will serve as the opening gun," Martin said.

Work of McCarthy's investigation before embarking on the program.

State To Test Radar, Airplane Use Further

Further experiments will be conducted in the use of planes and radar to check traffic violations on the highway, Col. C. J. Sanders, chief of the state patrol, says.

Col. Sanders made experimental flights along U.S. 30 in the vicinity of North Platte last week.

Capt. Dan Casey said the flow of traffic along U.S. 6 east of Lincoln was slowed "a few miles per hour" during a brief experiment with radar on Saturday.

Not Satisfied

Col. Sanders said he still wishes to "satisfy myself" on the possibilities of airplanes in traffic control before announcing any plans.

Casey said the reaction of drivers to the radar experiment was good.

"We stopped some cars, and told them what we were doing, but didn't give any tickets," he explained.

Radar equipment which the Highway Department has owned since 1947 for making traffic counts was used in the experiment.

A marked patrol car was stationed at each end of the radar section in the experiment.

Expensive

Col. Sanders pointed out that both airplanes and radar equipment are expensive, so the department wishes more information before embarking on the program.

Use of both planes and radar were listed by Gov. Robert Crosby as among the possibilities when he recently announced an intensified enforcement campaign to check the mounting rate of traffic fatalities.

The department now is receiving applications for weighing station attendants and driver's license examiners so the patrol can be relieved of those responsibilities. This will result in placing 26 more uniformed men on the highway for full time patrol duty.

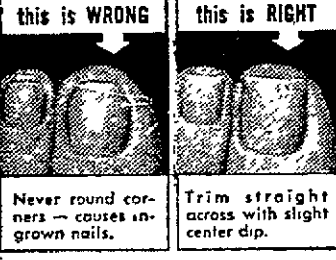

"We have patrolled the heavily traveled highways pretty well. Now we're going to patrol some of the other roads where people haven't been used to seeing patrolmen," Col. Sanders commented.

gations sub-committee currently is stalled in an attempt to straighten out a dispute between McCarthy and top Army officials, but so far Sen. Mundt (R-SD) acting chairman of the sub-committee has been unable to get the inquiry under way.

McCarthy, 45, went to the Senate in 1946 after serving in the Marine Corps. He was re-elected in 1952.

Republican State Chairmen meeting in Omaha last week-end took no official notice of the McCarthy-Army controversy but McCarthy was discussed freely in the corridors.

National GOP chairman Leonard W. Hall said in an interview he felt McCarthy's effectiveness had diminished in recent weeks but he made no mention of McCarthy in his address to the chairmen.

Wisconsin representatives at the gathering said McCarthy is stronger than he was two years ago in his home state.
